

I am a strong believer that life IS passion

Adrienne Wilkinson was introduced to the world as the Empress of Rome, who was revealed to be Xena's daughter, Livia/Eve, in Xena: Warrior Princess - the most watched show in the world at the time. She has since made dozens of notable television appearances, including popular guest starring roles on: About a Boy, Partners, Charmed, Days of Our Lives, ER, and Angel, as well as series regular roles on Venice, Goodnight Burbank, Pretty the Series, Club 5150, and As If. She has appeared in fan favorite films including Raze, Alpha Force, The American Failure, and Reflections, for which she won several awards. Adrienne is also one of only a handful of actors to appear in both, Star Wars and Star Trek projects, playing the Jedi turned Sith, Maris Brood in Star Wars: The Force Unleashed, and Captain Lexxa Singh, daughter of Khan, in Star Trek: Renegades.

She has voiced more than fifty lead characters in top animation projects and high profile video games including Rise of the Tomb Raider, World of Final Fantasy, Sons of Anarchy: The Prospect, and playing daughter, the personification of the light side of the Force in Star Wars: The Clone Wars. She has also produced several independent films.

Her diverse career has spanned multiple genres in projects that range from mainstream to cult classics. Adrienne is also known for her charity work, which includes a focus on literacy programs, animal welfare, and children.
