

“I had no idea that Eve was going to be so incredibly devout and so specific in her beliefs” figure out what to do with her because we both loved Livia so much. I actually talked to Lucy about it a little bit because I felt that Livia was so smart and Eve never seemed to get the idea. She never seemed to understand the idea that her mother had.

“It was still Livia, she would have been two steps ahead of her. Eve was wrapped up in religion and figuring herself out that she was a bit obsessive to a lot of other things. Lucy helped me figure out how to make that legitimate. What we decided was that Eve was just so honorable and so focused that she was less observant. She wasn't less intelligent, obviously, but just less observant because she was so into her goal and so into her mission. That was pretty much the only way I could do it. It was a bit of

Top
Eve in her Livia days,
just like mommy

Bottom left
From Livia...

Bottom right
...to Eve, yet still with very few clothes